

Blackthorn Cottage

Blackthorn Cottage is a charming two hundred year-old stone building that is located in a small clachan, or hamlet, of houses and farms two miles from the village of Broughshane in County Antrim.

It provides accommodation for two or three people: it has a double bedroom (with a king-sized double bed or twin beds), a small reading room (with sofa bed), a large kitchen, and an airy light-filled sitting room.

It offers a peaceful venue for creativity or relaxation. Its location and ambience make it the perfect place for writers or artists - or anyone who appreciates the charm of the Antrim countryside.

To enquire or book
please telephone:
028 2586 2608

Available for holiday and short-term lets.

It is ideal as a writer's retreat, an artists getaway, and as a haven for walkers and cyclists who want to enjoy the Antrim countryside.

Website: www.blackthorncottage.co.uk
Email: blackthorn.knowehead@googlemail.com

